
SEBC

Southern Employee Benefits Conference

GET INVOLVED!

Would you like to become more involved in the SEBC? Among the SEBC's many strengths is the involvement of its members. The Conference operates through the leadership and volunteer efforts of its many members. Committees help manage the Conference's operations, organize programs, recruit new members, and communicate valuable information to the membership and so much more. There is no better way to enjoy and get to know the organization than through participation in one of the many standing committees. And remember through involvement and sharing committee experiences, you will build valuable relationships.

Please review the opportunities listed below and indicate how you would like to participate.
